In this total immersion musical theater camp, participants live rock theater history hands-on every day for a month with expert professional instruction in the acting, voice and dance theatre disciplines. There is also plenty of chance for participants to get a satisfying taste of behind-the-scenes activity with stage management, writing, set, light, and sound design.

Our end-of-camp production will review rock history from the 1960's through today, and it will brilliantly show off the unique talents and skills of each camper and highlight the special, creative input each of them has brought to our summer's work.
